

Satellite radio is offering a choice to consumers, such as myself, who find virtually nothing to listen to on local radio. Locally, we have an "all news" station that, in reality, is not. If consumers want news, traffic and weather that is "on demand" and are willing to pay for it, I am amazed that the FCC would consider restricting such service. Please reject the petition by the National Association of Broadcasters (04-160).